MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - APR. 10TH.

The feed market continues the same story as has been the case for some time now, namely, wheat feeds are in a very strong position and hard to obtain for near-by shipment while oil seed meals are weak and in plentiful supply. Because of continued light run of the flour mills, wheat feeds are in extremely limited supply and even quotations covering prompt and April shipment are edging up to the nearby price. Offerings of oil seed meals on the other hand are fully ample to meet current inquiry; in fact, they are in excess of the present demand and some selling pressure is constantly present. Malt sprouts and brewers dried grains continue in an easy position with malt sprouts quotable around $23.50 and brewers dried grains around $29.00 per ton at Milwaukee or Chicago. Packing house products continue firm with tannage quoted at $74.00 and meat scraps at $75.00 per ton, f.o.b. packing plants.

HAY MARKET - KANSAS CITY. Carlots of alfalfa met a good demand at Kansas City if of good quality, but distinctly low grades were slow sale. Receipts amounted to 10 cars for the week, most of which represented clean-up shipments from producers who had been holding back for possible home feeding. Inquiry was good for U.S. No. 2 Alfalfa for Army contracts and a number of cars from interior Kansas points were stopped at Kansas City for inspection enroute to southeastern posts. Dairymen and feeders in the Kansas City area were using green feeds as they came on, but were still in need of dry hay in fairly liberal volume. Carlot prices were generally unchanged, quality considered. Nominal quotations basis of the U.S. Grades:- Alfalfa: No. 1 Extra Leafy $21.50-up; No. 2 Extra Leafy $19.50-21.00; No. 1, $17.50-19.00; No. 2 Leafy $16.00-17.50; No. 2, $14.00-16.00; No. 3 Leafy $13.00 to $14.00; No. 3, $12.00-13.00; Sample Grade $9.00-11.50 per ton. Prairie hay prices were lowered 50 cents per ton during the week, reflecting continued indifference of local buyers due to ample storage reserves. Receipts amounted to 9 cars and after the quotations were lowered, offerings moved fairly well. Outlets were mostly to shippers and merchandisers. Nominal quotations basis of the U.S. Grades:- Prairie: No. 1, $12.00; No. 2, $10.50-11.50; No. 3, $9.00-10.50; Sample Grade $7.50-8.50 per ton.

CHEESE - CHICAGO. Yesterday's wholesale prices - No. 1 Fresh American Cheese. Market steady but trade not active and bulk of volume moved in regular channels at maintained prices. Prices:- Twins 21-21½. Single Daisies 21½-22½. Longhorns 21½-22½.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - APR. 14TH.

Wheat feeds remain extremely firm for nearby shipment while the oil seed meals continue weak with offerings plentiful and demand seasonally slow. Mills for the most part have no wheat feeds to offer at all for immediate or prompt shipment, and stuff that can be promised for nearby shipment is offered almost entirely by resellers who are getting scattered applications on previously booked contracts for April delivery. May shipment bran is quoted in a nominal way at $4.00 under the prompt and April with May shipment middlings about $3.00 under. The oil seed meals are weak with further declines of $1.00 per ton registered in both soybean meal and linseed meal. Demand has been just a shade improved especially for soybean meal at the lower levels with mixed feed manufacturers making bids on round lots at prices only slightly under going quotations. Malt sprouts and brewers dried grains show further declines with malt sprouts quotable around $21.50 and brewers dried grains at $27.50 per ton at Milwaukee or Chicago.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - APRIL 17TH.

For nearby shipments, wheat mill feeds are practically unobtainable except on contracts already made and quotations are nominal. Jobbers and others who have old contracts with the mills are getting scattered applications right along but with flour business very light production of mill feeds is also light. The future shipment quotations are also tending slightly higher but buyers are not all as aggressive for anything beyond, or 14 days. The oil seed meals hold steady at recent declines with a little improvement in demand at the lower levels but offerings are ample and re-sellers at times are underquoting the crushers. Rather sharp decline in feed grains on Friday with good present new crop prospects tends to restrict demand somewhat but the heavy feeding program keeps tonnage moving.

HAY MARKET - KANSAS CITY. Carlot offerings of alfalfa at Kansas City met a fairly active demand and the rather meager supplies were well cleaned up. Inquiry was generally for sound hay of medium or better color and leaf, but in the absence of the better types, the less desirable kinds were substituted. Army contractors were still looking for U.S. No. 2 alfalfa for delivery to both central western and south-eastern posts. A few such lots were stopped at Kansas City for Federal inspection. Difficulty in obtaining sizeable amounts of suitable alfalfa in Kansas and Nebraska forced buyers to draw upon eastern Colorado supplies. Nominal quotations, basis of the U.S. Grades:- Alfalfa: No. 1 Extra Leafy $21.50-up; No. 2, Extra Leafy $19.50 to $ 21.00; No. 1, $17.50-19.00; No. 2 Leafy $16.00-17.50; No. 3, $14.00-16.00; No. 3 Leafy $13.00-14.00; No. 3, $12.00-13.00; Sample Grade $9.00-11.50 per ton. Arrivals of prairie hay at Kansas City were exceedingly light, reflecting in part the rainy weather over producing areas and partly the recent indifferent demand and consequent easier prices. Shippers had a few inquiries for work animal feed in the Central West and Army contractors were active buyers in outlying areas, but requirements of the larger cattle feeding interests were still well protected by previously purchased prairie. Nominal prices, basis of the U.S. Grades:- Prairie: No. 1, $12.00; No. 2, $10.50-11.50; No. 3, $9.00-10.50; Sample Grade $7.50-8.50 per ton.

CHEESE - CHICAGO. Yesterday's wholesale prices - No. 1 Fresh American Cheese. Market showed little material change and continued full steady. Dealers close holders of quality supplies which, while ample, were in fair regular demand. Prices: Twins 21-21 $\frac{1}{2}$. Single Daisies 21 $\frac{1}{2}$ -22 $\frac{1}{2}$. Longhorns 21 $\frac{1}{2}$ -22 $\frac{1}{2}$.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - APRIL 21ST.

Wheat feed markets have shown further advances but the oil seed cakes and meals once again registered declines. Asking prices for wheat mill feeds especially bran and middlings advanced sharply with spot shipments virtually unobtainable. Prices are quoted within a rather wide range, dependent upon time of shipment. Quotations given below are for prompt delivery. The oil seed meals have shown further declines but at the lower levels, the demand has improved sufficiently to steady the basis somewhat. Offerings, however, are plentiful both for prompt and deferred shipments. Malt sprouts are quotable around $20.00 per ton and brewers dried grains at $26.00 per ton at Milwaukee or Chicago. Tankage is held at $74.00 and meat scraps at $75.00 per ton, f.o.b. packing plants.

WISCONSIN WEATHER AND CROP SUMMARY FOR THE WEEK ENDING TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1942.

The temperature for the week averages above normal. Maximum temperatures were near or slightly above 80 degrees on one or two days. On the other hand, minimum readings were slightly below freezing to the southern border on a few nights. Minima of 19 degrees were recorded at some far northern points. Rainfall averages light with several stations reporting none for the week. Most soils are in good condition for plowing and seeding. Some northern soils are still wet due to frost leaving the ground. Warm rains would be very beneficial for all vegetation, especially in the southwest portions. Winter wheat, rye, meadows and pastures are generally reported in good condition. Growth, however, was retarded by the lack of lasting warm weather. Pastures afford some grazing. Field work made very good progress. The seeding of wheat, oats and barely was largely completed in the extreme south, and some early seedings are up to good stands. Plowing, disking and considerable seeding were done in the central section. Plowing made rather slow progress in the northern section. Germination and growth was retarded by the several cool nights. The planting of early potatoes and gardens made fairly good progress in the south and is progressing northward. The seeding of canning peas was active especially in the southeastern area. The steaming and sowing of tobacco beds was begun in Dane County. Most cranberry sections have been deeply drained permitting air and light to reach the ground. The vines are in very good condition. The condition of live-stock is good. Much feeding is still necessary. In the southern section, many sheep have been shorn and the wool sold.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - APRIL 24TH.

Wheat mill feeds for strictly spot shipment are virtually unobtainable and quotations for this kind of delivery are entirely nominal. The quotations given below contemplate prompt shipment, which is 14 days. All of May shipments are available at about $2.00 per ton under the prompt price. Demand for both bran and standard middlings remains active and in the face of limited supplies the situation continues quite firm. While oil seed meals made further declines early in the week, demand broadened out considerably at the lower levels and today the general situation is much steadier. Mixed feed manufacturers especially took hold of soybean meal at the lower levels and contracted quite heavily for both prompt and deferred shipments. The same was true to some extent in the case of linseed meal but here dealers and distributors took the meal instead of the mixed feed people.

HAY MARKET - KANSAS CITY. Team track receipts of alfalfa at Kansas City for the week were limited to two cars compared with 14 the previous week. A brisk demand existed for the higher types and especially for fourth cutting leafy hay; however, very little of this quality alfalfa was available. The less desirable kinds were slow sale with demurrage accruing on holdover lots in some instances. Army contractors were experiencing difficulty in locating sufficient stocks of U.S. No. 2 alfalfa to complete contracts to Western and Southeastern Army posts. Dairymen and feeders in the Kansas City area were increasing the use of green feeds and shipping demand for alfalfa was slow. Nominal quotations, basis of the U.S. Grades:- Alfalfa: No. 1 Extra Leafy $21.50-up; No. 2 Extra Leafy $19.50-21.00; No. 1, $17.50 to $19.00; No. 2 Leafy $16.00-17.50; No. 2, $14.00-16.00; No. 3 Leafy $13.00-14.00; No. 3, $12.00-13.00; Sample Grade $9.00-11.50 per ton. Arrivals of prairie hay at Kansas City, although slightly improved over the previous week, were still light. Local demand for prairie hay in this area was very limited. Feeding interests appeared well stocked for immediate needs and outside demand was confined to the needs of Army contractors. Prices for No. 1 prairie were revised slightly upward. Nominal quotations, basis of the U.S. Grades:- Prairie: No. 1, $12.00-13.00; No. 2, $10.50-11.50; No. 3, $9.00-10.50; Sample Grade $7.50-9.50 per ton. In Eastern Kansas demand for prairie hay continued good with a few cars moving out state to Eastern points. Truck demand continued good with reports that good type prairie was hard to find as supplies are rapidly disappearing; however, there was no quotable change in prices.

MINNEAPOLIS FEED MARKET - APRIL 28TH.

Wheat mill feed prices finally underwent a process of downward adjustment, influenced by some let-up in demand and slightly freer offerings for prompt and May shipments. Bran and standard middlings for strictly spot shipment continued in rather scarce supply and time at which shipment can be promised remains the important factor which determines the price. Prices quoted below are for prompt shipment, which practically amounts to first half of May at this time. Spot shipment feeds command a premium of about $2.00 per ton over the prompt price while all of May shipment is available at about $2.00 per ton discount under prompt. The oil seed meals have steadied somewhat following recent price declines. Heavier bookings were made at the lower levels, part of which were for nearby shipment. This has again given processors sufficient shipping directions to take care of current production and less selling pressure is now in evidence. Malt sprouts and brewers dried grains have also steadied slightly following recent drastic declines although offerings are still liberal. Malt sprouts are quoted at $20.00 to $21.00 and brewers dried grains at $25.00 to $26.00 per ton, delivered at Milwaukee or Chicago.

WISCONSIN WEATHER AND CROP SUMMARY FOR THE WEEK ENDING TUESDAY, APRIL 28, 1942.

The week was the mildest of the season. Temperatures averaged ten degrees to twelve degrees above the seasonal average. Afternoon readings were near or slightly above eighty degrees on two days. Freezing occurred in the extreme north on one or two nights. Sunshine was abundant. Rainfall varied from light over much of the State to moderately heavy in the extreme southwest and in some north-central counties. Even the light showers were beneficial in relieving the dryness of the top soil. Subsoils were generally sufficiently moist. The week was very favorable for field work, and rapid progress was made in plowing and planting. The seeding of spring grain is 80% done in the central section and is progressing in the northern section. Early seedings are up to good stands in the south section. Germination of later seedings was retarded by dry top soil until the recent showers. Plowing for corn and soy beans made good progress with the soil mostly in excellent condition. A little corn was planted. The planting of gardens and early potatoes continued actively in central and southern sections. Some early sown canning peas are up to fairly good stands, and peas for later markets are being sown. The seeding of sugar beets was begun. The sowing of tobacco beds is largely done in Dane County area and some plants are up. Many cranberry vines were deeply flooded to retard growth a week or ten days. Winter grains, meadows and pastures responded rapidly to the warm weather and recent rains. Winter grains stood well. Pastures afford some grazing, but auxiliary feeding is still required. Fruit trees are budding. Some cherry and plum trees are in bloom, and apple buds were showing pink at the close of the week. (O V E R)
